LOCAL BRIEFS.

SHORTLY before 9 o'clock yesterday morn ing a fire originated in the waste paper room of the National Museum. The Fire Department and the amployes of the institution soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames. It is supposed that a match thrown into the room caused the fire.

Mr. Richard Baxter, who lives on the Shepherd Road, near Brightwood, gave a tramp lodging Saturday night, and in the morning he discovered that his lodger had stolen a silver watch, a valise, a lot of shirts, drawers, and socks, a sack coat, army discharges and a marriage certificate. AT THE MEETING of the Emmet branch of the Irish National League at Clan-na-Gael Hall last night forty-live new members were enrolled. Addresses were made by Messrs. Walsh, O'Toole, Grady and Killeen.

A Fine originated in the basement of F. J. Johnson's saloon, 436 Ninth street, about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, which extended to the store of J. B. Meeks, 438, and from thence to Wixom's fruit store, causing a damage of about $10,000. The loss is a damage of about a covered by insurance.

A Witness Who Was Particular. Richard Posey, an aged colored man, who was a witness in an assault case, refused to be sworn in the usual way in the Police Court to-day. He shrank back from the Bible when the bailiff handed it to him, and refused to touch it. "Well, swear him by the uplifted hand," suggested the Court.
"I don't swear that way, either," he replied.
"Well, how do you swear?" inquired the Judge. "I don't swear at all," was the astonishing reply. He said he was a Christadelphian. The Court allowed him to affirm to tell the truth in view of the pains and penalties of perjury. and penalties of perjury.

Saved By His Eccentricity.

A very tall and muscular old colored man, named Matthew Cherry, created quite an excitement on the Seventh Street Road yesterday by knocking out in three successive rounds as many officers of the law. He was before the Police Court to-day on the complaint of Agent Key of the Humane Society charged with cruelty to animals by driving a disabled horse. On account of his eccentric character the court suspended the assault cases and fined him $5 for cruelty to animals.

Child's cape overcout, Eiseman, 7th and E. Death of Mrs. L. P. Ward.

Mrs. Louise P. Ward, wife of the late John B. Ward of this city, died in Santa Fe, N. M., on Wednesday, the 25th instant. She was the cidest daughter of the late Hon. William David of Philadelphia, Pa., in which city she was born October 16, 1882. On her marriage to Mr. Ward, a prominent business man of Washington, this city became her home. She leaves one son, now in Washington.

The attraction at the Dime Museum this week is Miss Louise Arnot, supported by Harry C. Albangh, and a powerful company in a series of dramas. The programme amounced is as follows: For Monday, "The New World;" Tuesday and Saturday, "Fun on the Hudson;" Wednesday, "The Little Detective;" Thursday, "The Celebrated Case;" Friday, "The Child of the Mountain." The youthful Levy (9 years old) will appear at each performance in his great cornet sole.

Miss Minnie Maddern opens a week's en-gagement at the National Theatre to night with 'In Spite of All.' Miss Maddern is recognized as one of the leading young netresses now before the public, and accomanied as she is by a strong company in an itractive play, can not fall to draw rowded houses during the whole week.

The original Fiske Jubilee Singers of Nashville, Tenn., will appear in two concerts at Congregational Church to morrow and Wednessay rights. The programme will include a number of glees and plantation songs as well as concerted pieces. Reserved seats can now be had at Ellis' music store. Reserved scats for the Bischoff course can be purchased only at Ellis & Co.'s for $1 for the full course.

Mr. Arthur Tams, who sings Koko this week, is a great favorite among the patrons at Herzog's, where he appeared last winter and gained great favor by his impersonation of Gispard in "The Chimes of Normandy." He was then leading man and stage manager of the Kimball Opera Company. Mr. Tams is one of the most clever actors on the comic opera stage.

The company that will give "The Mikado" at Herzog's Opera-House this week is a company into organized and will make its first bow before the public on Monday. Great preparations are making to launch the company under the most favorable auspices. New Japanese scenery has been specially painted for the occasion by Mr. E. W. Carpenter, while Mr. H. Nicolaides of this city has had charge of the stage settings. The original intention, as published in Tim Carric, was to have the company now singing at the Hollis-street Theatre in Boston, but it was finally decided to present an entirely new company. Washington is rivalling the metropolis as a place for the languration of theatrical enterprises.

The Sangerbund's Choral Concert. The Sængerbund gave its first choral con-cert last evening at the National Rifles' Hall, which was filled to the last place by its members and friends. It was opened by a short address in poetic form by the presi lent, Mr. F. Claudy, and the programme which had to be shortened on account of the many encores demanded, was brilliantly executed. It comprised compositions for male and female voices, rendered by the full chorus of the society; soprano solos by Miss M. Behrend, a lady whose fine vocal powers were greatly appreciated; violin and piano duet (sonata, Grieg, op. 8) by Mr. H. Bakeman, the young arlist who recently returned from Berlin, and Mr. W. Waidecker; a violin solo by Mr. Bakeman, with string orchestra accompaniment; soprano solo, with chorus (Stabat Mater, Rossini), by Mr. D. Morrell, and a trio by Mrs. Morrell, Messrs, F. Knoop and E. Holer. The most thoroughly appreciated number of the programme was the magnificent rendition of the composition by Professor Malmene of Freligrath's poem, "O lieb, so lang du lieben kannst" (Oh love while love you may), a composition of beautiful harmony and wonderfully impressive, for the rendition of which the Arion Society of Newark, N. J., carried of the first prize at the fourteenth annual for male and female voices, ren-

A Porter's Systematic Thievery. Mr. Julius Lansburgh has recently missed a considerable quantity of goods from his store, and last Saturday he caught the thief in the act, who proved to be one of his trusted porters. Theophilus Clark. He was arrested by ex-Detective McDevitt and turned over to Detective Carter. In the Police Court this morning he was charged with grand larceny, and Prosecuting-Attorney Thomas stated that there would be several other charges against him growing out of the same matter. The case went over on account of the witnesses not having been summoned. Clark has carried on a systematic robbery of his employer for a long time. His mode of committing the thefts was to put a package in the wagon for himself when he was ordered to take out an order. Last Saturday Mr. Lansburgh suspected him, and watched him as he loaded his wagon. He notleed that he put a roll of mattling in the wagon which had not been sold. The character of the goods which he stole was principally carpets and rugs. He made a full confession, and some of the property has been recovered. The probertes amount to several hundreds of store, and last Saturday he caught the thief rugs. He made a full confession, and som of the property has been recovered. ADMITTING THE NATIONALS. Is the Washington Club to be "Frozen Out" of the League?

In Instabill circles there still seems to be one uncertainty about the admission of he Nationals to the League. The New York Sun of yesterday said: "The League on discovered that if it takes in a new Eastern club it must also include a new Western club in place of Buffalo, but where the Western club is to come from is not known." John B. Day, one of the committee of three appointed by the League to settle the matter, said yesterday: "As far as I can see, the League will have only six clubs next season. The players of the Buffelo and Providence clubs will be divided among the three weaker clubs of the League, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Boston." "The most authentic information," says the World, in reference to the future nection of the League, "is to the effect that arrangements will be made to drop Buffalo and Providence and have the League composed of but six clubs next season." On the other hand a special dispatch from Boston states that the club of that city has purchased the franchise of the Providence Club and will sell it to the Nationals. They purchase it toget Denny. As to the statement that no Western club can be found to take Buffalo's place, it is well known that Cincinnati stands ready and eager. the Western club is to come from is not

We deem it our duty to be thankful to our fellow-man as well as the All-Wise Providence. We are thankful to those of our creditors that assist us, procuring such goods that are in great demand and no other house can get. We are thankful to our customers for their ready response to our call, they knowing full well that new advertisements mean new novelties. We are more than thankful for our past success, and we shall endeavor to continue to be successful by honest and square dealibus, adding larger stock and creating befter facilities for the display of goods and comfort of the public. We shall shortly add an arnex (20x100) that will do credit to any first-class establishment found anywhere. We shall from this day continue to reduce our mountain of goods; therefore will offer immense bargains in seasonable goods only. A great slaughter in triumed and untrimmed bennets and hats.
